

Esta es la décima entrega de nuestro alerta semanal sobre las elecciones en los Estados Unidos. En ella encontrará noticias, análisis, datos de encuestas y otros materiales que le permitirán seguir de cerca la campaña electoral. Si tiene inconvenientes para acceder a los documentos, comuníquese con nosotros a BuenosAiresIRC@state.gov

★ LAS ENCUESTAS

Daily Presidential Tracking Poll

Rasmussen Reports

More...

Electoral College Update: Obama 260 McCain 163

Rasmussen Reports

More...

Young Voters Favor Obama, but How Many Will Vote?

Gallup

Although Barack Obama leads John McCain by almost 30 percentage points among 18- to 29-year-old registered voters, these younger voters are still less likely than older voters to report being registered to vote, paying attention to the election, or planning to vote this year.

More...

Gallup Daily: Obama Holds Lead in Various Scenarios

Gallup

Barack Obama maintains a lead over John McCain in the latest Gallup Poll Daily tracking update from Saturday through Monday; the size of the lead varies between seven and 10 percentage points among likely voters, depending on turnout assumptions.

More...

Obama Holds Six Point Lead Among Likely Voters

A new Harris Poll finds that if the election were held now, 50 percent of likely voters would vote for Barack Obama and 44 percent would vote for John McCain.

More...

✪ ANÁLISIS

Doubts Grow About McCain's Judgment, Age and Campaign

Pew Research Center for the People & the Press

Obama is inspiring more confidence on several key issues, including Iraq and terrorism, than he did before the debates, and his margin over McCain as the candidate best able to improve economic conditions has grown. More...

Two Kinds of Change: Comparing the Candidates on Foreign Policy

Cato Institute

Few U.S. presidential elections have been decided on the basis of foreign policy. For the first time in decades, however, both parties have fielded candidates who have chosen to emphasize their foreign policy views. . More...

✪ LA CAMPAÑA EN LOS MEDIOS

Canvassing Campaign Media: An Analysis of Time, Tone and Topics

Project for Excellence in Journalism

Coverage of the presidential race has not so much cast Obama in a favorable light as it has portrayed McCain in a substantially negative one, according to a new study of the media. More...

Polls and Plumbers Drive Narrative

Project for Excellence in Journalism

Campaign coverage increasingly focused on tactics -- including McCain's invocation of an Ohio plumber to represent the working man - as well as fights in battleground states and the parade of polls. More...

✪ LA CAMPAÑA

Road to the White House: John McCain

America.gov

Here is a summary of recent campaign activities. More...

Road to the White House: Barack Obama

America.gov

Here is a summary of recent campaign activities. More...

✪ LOS DEBATES

Obama Viewed as Winner of Third Debate

Gallup

Round three of the presidential debates went to Barack Obama, according to a one-night USA Today/Gallup poll of debate watchers conducted Oct. 16, completing a sweep of the three debates for Obama. More...